How to Stay Motivated in Research (Series of 5 Tips).
You’ll see the progress being made in the field and be reminded of how your research project can fit in as a piece of the puzzle. You may be inspired from seeing your project with a “big picture” perspective and gain the motivation to keep it moving forward.

Mustaches in Medicine Calendars for Sale.
The Men’s Health Club (made up of M1s and the M2s) continues to sell “Mustaches in Medicine” calendars. Proceeds go towards providing M1s with a stipend for research. Each calendar will be sold for $10. Cash, check or venmo payments made out to Jeff Talarek (@Jeff-Talarek) will be accepted. For more information, please email Jeff Talarek.

Vontz Preclinical Imaging Core.
The Vontz Preclinical Imaging Core (PIC) offers a full range of live mouse imaging (X-ray, fluorescence, bioluminescence, PET/SPECT/CT) for longitudinal studies, now including services on the Perkin-Elmer IVIS system inside the LAMS barrier in the MSB. Visit the PIC website to contact Sharon and Lisa for details.

College of Medicine Research Rising Star Award.
Nominations will be accepted for a College of Medicine full time Instructor or Assistant Professor who demonstrates outstanding commitment to health-related research. The nomination package should include a detailed letter from a Chair or Division Director stating why the faculty member deserves to be recognized and the nominee’s CV. The successful nominee will be in the top tier of career benchmarks among peers. The cover letter and CV should be submitted as one PDF document to Brieanne Sheehan no later than January 7, 2019.

Cancer Biology Postdoc Support Available.
The Pathways to Cancer Therapeutics T32 training grant has been refunded. It supports graduate students and postdocs while they do research in cancer biology and obtain a certificate in clinical and translational research. Postdoc slots are still open, contact Carolyn.Price@uc.edu or Susan.Waltz@uc.edu for information (must be US citizen or green card holder and recent graduate).
